

~The Seed of Life ~ The Union of Divine Feminine & Divine Masculine~

The Divine Masculine comes into the life of the Divine Feminine to bless her. And often opens doors for her in ways she is unable to do on her own. This is free from meaning she is weak and is unable to do so on her own. Nor does it mean such for the man either of weakness. For we both men and women have in balance of Oneness both Divine Feminine and Divine Masculine within and are capable of doing such on our own in co~creation and balance with the Master Artist of the universe. This is one vibrational means of creating or rather transforming energy on this earth as technically nothing is ever really created this is an earthly word we use. Creation is really energy which is infinite that is free from ever dying nor giving birth it is just simply energy, being transformed into another infinite essence and we call this creation or giving birth or giving birth to creation and the like. And in some ways this can be very successful. Yet it is free from being the only means of creation, co~creation, transforming energy. For while we can be successful on our own whole, perfect, complete, and beautiful simply as we are in Divine Masculine and Divine Feminine balance, we can only go so far on our own. It is through the means of the dance of union in which magic truly occurs.

The other means by which we create is within the dance of Sacred Union on the Sacred Path of life on this earth, within experiencing the duality in the oneness, the oneness in the duality, our earthly ways of being are for the Divine Masculine to bless the Divine Feminine with their seed of life of the Sun they are and then in turn as the Divine Feminine takes that seed and creates life with such. It is just like when the Divine Masculine gives the Divine Feminine the seed of life of his seed when the Divine Feminine is then with child as she then creates from the seed a new life. That is the one way within pro~creation which benefits all of bringing forth physical human form. And yet another way is through creative projects, art, music, and many other infinite ways of bringing forth this energy which through co~creation rather than pro~creation we then benefit all in another way.

As the Divine Feminine when she is fully in her goddess of the Divine Feminine she is then beautiful radiance, the curves of the river of love and the Sea of love as one, she is free from being linear she is multi~dimensional within her intuitive gifts of the heart which is the heart of Source itself. She is flow, creative and co~creative energy, that which is the receiver of the light from the Sun of the Divine Masculine and his seed and then brings life forth from the Sun through the alchemical process of transforming energy into form.

Thus, the Divine Masculine are to be in service to the Divine Feminine. Free from being servants in the ways of being a slave. Rather, in the servant role of blessing the Divine Feminine in giving such a seed of creation. In blessing the Divine Feminine he is to uplift her into her goddess by seeing her as such goddess which then brings forth her infinite possibilities and potentials into fruition. To bring life to her, to breathe life into her so with the breathe of life he gives her that her Divine Feminine flow is maximised and the fullness of her Divinity in Divine Feminine energy is realised. As the Divine Masculine honours, blesses, supports, uplifts, nurtures, and serves the Divine Feminine in this way all of life is then blessed. For the Divine Masculine this starts with his connection, union, and relating or relationship with the Divine Feminine of the earth and of the cosmos and then within him and then to all the Divine Feminine as in essence all is the Divine Feminine.

When the Divine Masculine comes to the Divine Feminine, her task is to be free from rejecting him. For the greatest joy to a man is to be able to give to the Divine Feminine and she in turn in her greatest joy is to receive him and his gifts to her in honour and reverence thereby honouring him and his divinity as he honours her in her divinity; and then utilise such in appreciation and gratitude to give birth to new creations. As the Divine Feminine steps fully into her goddess, the Divine Masculine can then see you and your light of love and as the moth is to the flame so too will the Divine Masculine come forth fully stepping into their role of blessing you in service. For the Divine Masculine is wired in consciousness to be in service to the Divine Feminine as described above. For those who are in union/relationship with a Divine Masculine man, please be at ease knowing that just because the man in your life is admiring the light of love in another Divine Feminine is free from meaning that he is going to sleep with her. It is simply because he is wired in consciousness to be such as described above. And when you are fully insecure or secure with in, in security within yourself/your soul and also within your union/relationship, you will then be fully ok knowing this.

And Divine Masculine, just because you honour the Divine Feminine it is free from meaning that you are to give way to your primal sexual urges in every moment. Rather you are invited to savour that divine sacredness of tantra with the one woman who truly calls to your heart in union and yet use the sexual energies within you as the awakened Divine Masculine man of consciousness you are and channel it into creations of your seed as written above in blessing the Divine Feminine. For neither the Divine Feminine nor Divine Masculine is to abandon such sensual and sexual urges, they are to be utilised in balance, honour, and reverence.

As both the Divine Feminine and Divine Masculine dance the Sacred Dance of union in this way, all of humanity, earth, and the cosmos are blessed. For this is what nature does in perfect interconnection balance, wholeness, integration and is who we are to be in creating infinite circles upon circles of Love.
