

~Inner Soul Child Healing~

It took my own Inner Soul Child Healing process of coming to nurture my wee lass within that was hurting and felt these things were missing in my life and how to heal/integrate that in balance/wholeness, that has me be able to be such for you. The simple (yet complex at moments) gift of being able to truly be present with you, to see you, hear you (what I call that Source has given me as hearing the message behind the message) and to validating your existence of your God given right to be here simply because you are made of the same energy and Love that Source is which is given through an Inner Soul Child Healing is what can instantaneously remove those barriers that hold you back in life.

From my own healing process within healing from being abused as a child, being raped in my teens, abusive relationships, PTSD, trauma, emotional wounds from this life and other lives as well and so on, I became the creator of this Inner Soul Child Healing process which has and continues to assist thousands of people the world over to heal from their childhood wounds and traumas providing integration, wholeness, well~being into their lives so that they can shine into the Soul of who they are.
